

How we meet our responsibilities cont'd

In cases of misconduct by accountants, auditors and actuaries we take enforcement action which may lead to fines and other sanctions against them. Strong disciplinary action gives confidence that poor standards and misconduct will not be tolerated, and promotes confidence in our system of regulation.

We promote the strength and trustworthiness of the UK's corporate sector and capital markets internationally to help the UK remain a magnet for global capital. We also influence key developments worldwide that may affect companies and stakeholders in the UK.

To deliver our mission we must also be transparent and act with integrity. We adhere to the high standard of behaviour and procedures expected of a public body, with appropriate governance and high levels of transparency and accountability. We are independent from those we regulate and follow our own principles of good governance and reporting.
